AN APPEAL FOR CORRECT LIVING

Health Should be Contagious, Not Disease.

So Declared Dr. McCormack In Lecture Last Night—Large Audience Delighted With the Entertaining and Instructive Thoughts Advanced by Noted Physician—People Urged to Prevent Disease.

In the court house last night Dr. J. H. McCormack, one of the most noted physicians of the country, delivered a most interesting and instructive address on "Health and Sanitation." The court room was well filled and the address was greatly enjoyed by all. Of a strong personality, the speaker had a fascinating delivery and he held the close attention of the audience. No one regretted being present, while many expressed the wish that they could hear him again.

Dr. Charles Roberson, president of the Guilford County Medical Society, under whose auspices Dr. McCormack came to Greensboro, presided and introduced the speaker. He spoke for more than an hour, but those who listened fairly hung upon his words.

"The greatest asset of any nation," said Dr. McCormack, "its most important resources to be considered, is that represented in its vigorous population, its children, women and men. In fact, farms, mines, forests, factories and similar things called wealth, have little more than an abstract value, except as there is such a population to operate and enjoy them. The drain upon this asset in this country from diseases now known to be preventable, and as a result of vicious and immoral living, is estimated at more than one-third of the entire sick and death rate every year.

"Economists figure that there is an average of 1,500,000 deaths in this country every year, with 4,200,000 cases of sickness, affecting the comfort and happiness of 5,000,000 homes and 25,000,000 people. After careful study they tell us that over one-third of this enormous sick and death rate, a tax upon the people almost beyond calculation, can and should be prevented. As an argument for peace, it is shown that 210,000 men were killed in both armies during the five years of the civil war. As an argument for healthier living, it is shown that 750,000 persons have died from tuberculosis in the last five years and that about 1,000,000 are constantly sick of it. They show 250,000 deaths and 2,500,000 sick from typhoid fever in the same period, and a large sick and death rate from diphtheria, measles, scarlet fever and other diseases preventable with present knowledge, and urge that with proper governmental assistance, this life-saving knowledge should be constantly extended. It is then shown that in ten years our national government has expended $40,000,000, and now proposes to appropriate $250,000,000 more, to prevent tick fever in cattle, cholera in hogs and chickens, pests to crops and trees, and to protect other interests having money value, while in all its history it has never spent a dollar or lifted a hand to protect the people from these far more important domestic pestilences. There are experts and funds in abundance at Washington to go anywhere for investigation, or to prepare literature in regard to any animal or plant disease, any agricultural resource, water power, or other condition affecting commercial interests, but the citizen will inquire in vain for information about protecting his family from typhoid fever or other sickness.

"Most of these facts are well known to medical men. They have long insisted that good health can and should be made more contagious than sickness, and, in direct conflict with their own interests, have urged the health reforms which would bring it all about, but in most states, and in the nation, have met almost constant indifference or antagonism from both legislative bodies and the people. This was in part because the laity medicine has always been an occult, mystic science, and still more because until recent years, ours has been a discordant profession. This discord was in small part between the different systems of practice, but far more between physicians competing for the same practice, and was often fostered by their lay friends.

"A few years ago we were aroused to the enormity of this evil, to its baneful effects upon us and the people, we banded ourselves together for its extermination, probably never before did a reform so sweep a profession, and now, regardless of schools or parties, ours is rapidly becoming one of the most harmonious of callings. This discord had existed so long, however, that it created a sentiment, a prejudice, if you will, against doctors, which is a habit of thought with most people, except as to their own physician, which did not disappear with the removal of the cause, and in spite of the rapid advances of the professional, and the heroism and individual worth of its members, this is almost as strong as it was a generation ago. I speak in the light of an experience which has come to few men. Once or twice almost every day for six years I have spoken on this subject to popular audiences in every section of the Union, laymen discussing it freely at the close of my talks. In this way I have been able to make a study of doctors and what the people think of them in a very broad way, have found this sentiment almost universal, and it has been on this account mainly, that it has been so difficult for us to secure and enforce our legislation."

One out of every nine persons die of tuberculosis, said Dr. McCormack, yet this is a preventable disease. It is a seed disease and unless one gets the seed in his system it is impossible for them to contract the disease. Likewise typhoid fever is a preventable disease, being spread by seed. "It is a most filthy disease and it should be considered a disgrace," declared the speaker, "by every woman for typhoid to get into her household, and it should be a reproach upon a community." He then recited the many ways the disease is carried into a house, flies, water, impure milk, etc., being principally mentioned.

The speaker referred to the fact that North Carolina is the 31st state in the race for better health conditions and he urged that the state be required to look after the health of her people better. Nothing is so important as the health of a people, he said. Then ten thousand people are dying annually in the state, when the death rate could be decreased materially.

Education was the principal element necessary to bring about better health conditions, he said. The people must understand that it is for their advantage the doctors are pleading and the better the health conditions are the less there will be for doctors to do and the less the amount of doctor's bills. It looks preposterous to some for a physician to thus work against his best interests, but he is sworn to do this and he is most unselfish in his work. The speaker pointed out as an illustration that formerly business men employed lawyers to have charge of their cases in court, while now business concerns employ counsel to keep them out of court. Instead of employing a doctor to make you well you should employ one to keep you from getting sick, he said. The open air remedy freely applied will greatly reduce the number of cases of the most prevalent diseases.

At the close of Dr. McCormack's stirring lecture, Dr. Roberson called on representatives of the several professions for short talks. Those invited by Dr. Roberson to express themselves were Rev. Melton Clark, Rev. E. K. McLarty, Mr. E. Sternberger, Mr. L. J. Brandt, Col. J. A. Barringer and Mr. A. W. Cooke. All warmly endorsed the address by Dr. McCormack and his remarks looking to community co-operation for better health and sanitation.

It was decided to appoint a committee of seven to arrange for a series of public health meetings. Dr. Roberson stated that he would make public the names of the members of this committee at an early date in the daily papers.

BETTERMENT ASSOCIATION

The Organization At McLeansville Will Give An Entertainment Saturday Evening.

McLeansville, Feb. 7.—The young lady members of the Betterment Association assisted by the young men of the high school are preparing to give an entertainment Saturday evening, Feb. 11 at 7 o'clock. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged. The program consists of three excellent plays; "A Case of Suspicion," "Maidens All Forlorn," and "An Economical Boomerang," any one of which is well worth the price of a ticket. The ladies of the McLeansville association believe in doing something all the time. Since the association was organized in September they have bought lamps for the school building, had a nice stage built, bought water coolers and ordered a small supplementary library. They have in view still better things for the future. Come Saturday evening and let them entertain you.

BILL TO GIVE MORE COURTS

By Making Four New Judicial Districts.

Senator Hobgood, of Guilford, Introduces Bill Dividing State Into Twenty Districts, Four More Than At Present—Majority of Work Yesterday Was Consideration of Local Bills—Near Beer Protests.

Raleigh, Feb. 7.—In the senate today Senator Hobgood, of Guilford, introduced a bill dividing the state into twenty judicial districts, an increase of four districts over the present number. The majority of the bills today were of a local nature and of no interest except in the community they affect. Some of the more important legislation follows:

The Senate.

President Newland convened the senate at 11 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Farmer making the invocation.

Petitions Presented.

Hobgood, of Guilford: From citizens of Guilford favoring the Kent anti-beer bill and the Brown bill prohibiting the handling of liquor by clubs.

Thorne, of Nash, (by request): From certain citizens of Nash asking to be permitted to manufacture wine and brandy.

Kitchin, of Halifax, (by request): From W. C. T. U. against near beer.

Haymore, of Surry: From forty citizens of Surry county against near beer and keeping liquor by clubs and to memorialize Congress to pass an act that when liquor is shipped into the state it shall be under the jurisdiction of the state.

New Bills.

Sikes, of Wake: Provide for higher education of the blind; also for the relief of deaf and blind children attending school.

The senate received a message from the governor in reference to the action of the governor of Nevada in refusing to accept as a gift the repudiated bonds of North Carolina.

There was a discussion of the bill relating to fertilizers and on motion it was re-referred to the committee on agriculture.

The bills for the relief of the Appalachian Training School and to establish a training school for teachers in Western North Carolina were reported favorably by the committee on education with a request that they be referred to the committee on appropriations. This was done.

Senator Johnson, of Duplin, introduced a joint resolution for the relief of the railway mail clerks in this state and spoke in favor of its adoption. The resolution was referred to the committee on federal relations.

The senate at 12:55 adjourned until 11 o'clock Wednesday.

The House.

The house was convened at 10 o'clock by Speaker Dowd, Rev. Mr. Taylor, of Raleigh, offering the prayer.

There were additional petitions against near beer and liquor in clubs.

Large numbers of bills came from committees with favorable reports and took places on the House calendar. The committee on liquor traffic reported favorably the bill to allow sheriffs $40 for convictions for running distilleries and $10 where there is no conviction.

The committee of federal relations reported favorably a joint resolution calling on representatives in Congress to support parcels post.

New Bills.

McNeill: Joint resolution relative to teaching the Bible in the public schools. Resolution of civic club relative to conservation of forests.

Battle: Amend the revision relative to listing poll and property for taxation.

Doughton: Provide for payment of bonds of the state falling due in 1913 and for the deficit in the state treasury of $350,000 on account of excess of appropriations of the 1909 legislature over the revenue for the succeeding two years.

Bryan: Amend the Revision relative to inspection of fertilizers.

Majette: Amend the act of 1909 relative to establishing a card index system for grants in the state department.

Hageman: Support and improve the Appalachian Training school.

Wooten: Pay solicitors of the state salaries instead of fees. Would be effective after March 1, 1912 on a scale

COMMISSION PLAN ADOPTED

Voters Ratified New Charter Yesterday.

Majority Was Almost Two to One In Favor of Commission Form of Government—A Thousand and Forty Five Votes Cast—Both Sides Active All Day, But Opponents Conceded Defeat Before Polls Closed—What Prominent Workers on Each Side Had To Say.

The voters of Greensboro by a vote of nearly two to one ratified the new charter yesterday, the total vote cast being 1,045 out of about 1400 registered voters. There were 692 votes for the commission plan and 353 against, a majority of 339. The polls opened at sunrise and closed at sunset. A few tardy voters arrived just in time to see that the doors were barred.

Both sides were on hand early yesterday morning and the workers were quite active during the day. Opponent and advocate chatted together and twitted each other as to the way they were going to win. However, before noon it was seen that the new charter would be ratified and the opponents conceded their defeat by 3 o'clock. However, the friendly rivalry between the two sides continued until the polls were closed and the result announced. As soon as it was seen that the plan was adopted those who opposed it strongest were the first to say that they had been beaten and would abide by the decision of the majority, and use their every influence to put the best men into office.

The Board of Aldermen will meet this afternoon and canvass the returns made to them by the election judges and as soon as this is done the new charter becomes effective. The Board of Aldermen will continue to direct the affairs of the city until the commissioners are elected and qualified the first Tuesday in May.

Some of the hardest workers, both for and against the proposed charter, were seen last night regarding the result and they had the following to say:

Mr. L. J. Brandt.

"It now behooves the people of Greensboro to get together and select the best possible men for the offices of commissioners. We can select good men if we use proper judgment and I have no fears as to the result. I have been confident that the new charter would be adopted, but I did not think the majority would be so large. Let everyone carefully consider in choosing those who will be our officials."

Mr. H. L. Coble.

"I waged the fight against the new charter with sincere motives, acting, as I believed, for the best interests of Greensboro. I believed then, and do now, that the commission plan favored by myself and others is better than the one adopted, but I am ready to submit to the will of the majority. I want to say further that I have no feeling in the matter; that, so far as I know, the campaign was conducted on a high plane by both sides and I feel that everybody was honest in the stand he took. So let us all put our shoulders to the wheel and elect the best possible men for commissioners and give Greensboro the best city government possible. I am ready and more than willing to do my best to accomplish this end."

Mr. R. C. Hood.

"I predicted yesterday morning that we would carry the election by a majority of 350 and the majority was 339. I am glad the people saw fit to adopt the plan and believe that we will have no trouble in getting the proper officials for the offices. I hold up Mr. W. T. Sergeant as an exemplar of the commission form of government and sincerely trust that he can be prevailed upon to continue his work for the city in the capacity of Commissioner of Public Works. I stand ready to do anything to make the new form of government better and am confident that they will exercise proper judgment in choosing their officials."

Mr. E. J. Justice.

"I think it is now incumbent for everybody who wants good government to take part in the nomination and election of the proper officers in order to get the best men. I feel sure from the interest manifested in the election today the people will see to it that proper men are elected to the office of commissioners. I have never had any doubt about the fact that the people would do the wise thing in all political and governmental questions when they had the facts fully before them and the result of the election today confirms me in this opinion. We have now a purely democratic form of government for the city and machinery whereby the will of the people can be made the supreme law."

Mr. E. A. Brown, who made a gallant fight against the charter, said:

"I feel that I both lost and won. I won by reason of the fact that I have always stood for the commission form of government. I lost by reason of the fact that there was adopted a charter in which there were, in my judgment, a great many vital defects. We will have to trust to time to remedy these defects."

"I was born and reared a Democrat and therefore believe in majority rule; and I stand ready now, as I have always, to join earnestly in any movement for the upbuilding of Greensboro."

"I 'cussed out' nobody in my efforts to carry my point and now that I have failed to carry my point I do not propose to sulk."

Mr. E. G. Sherrill early conceded the defeat of the "antis." "But," said he, "I am not dissatisfied or disgruntled. It is plain to me that the majority of the voters of the city want a commission form of government and I am perfectly content for the majority to have its way."

MR. JOHN E. SHAW DEAD.

Former Greensboro Man Passes Away In Danville.

Mr. John E. Shaw, brother of Messrs. J. H. Claude and Charley Shaw, and Mrs. O'Connor, of this city, died in Danville yesterday morning. The following is from yesterday's Danville Bee:

Mr. John E. Shaw died this morning at 4:10 o'clock at his home, 744 Patton street, after an illness of about a week from pneumonia. While it was known for the past several days that the condition of Mr. Shaw was serious, the news of his death will come as a shock to many of his friends.

Mr. Shaw was 32 years of age and was born in Greensboro, N. C. He came to Danville over fourteen years ago, and since that has made this city his home. For a number of years he conducted a grocery and confectionery establishment here, but for the past several years has been employed as a clerk. For several years he was employed by C. M. Mahan, commission merchant and wholesale grocer.

Mr. Shaw was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Greensboro, N. C., but did not transfer his membership upon moving here. He was a member of the Phoenix Lodge of Pythians of this city. Mr. Shaw, or "Jack," the name by which he was pleasantly known by hundreds of friends and acquaintances, was a genial, affable and good-hearted citizen. His pleasant disposition and cheerfulness made him scores of friends who will learn of his death with sincere grief.

The funeral services will be conducted from the residence on Patton street tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and will be under the auspices of the Phoenix Lodge Knights of Pythias. Dr. W. R. Laird, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by Dr. J. E. Hicks, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Rev. H. T. Stevens, pastor of the Second Baptist church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Green Hill cemetery.

JACK LONDON, REVOLUTIONIST

Also Calls Himself "Outlaw" And "Chicken Thief."

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 7.—Friends of Jack London expressed surprise over a communication he sent to a gathering of Socialists and Mexican revolt sympathizers here last night, in which he proclaimed himself a "chicken thief and a revolutionist." The letter reads:

"We Socialists, anarchists, hoboes, outlaws, chicken thieves and undesirable citizens of the United States are with you heart and soul in your effort to overthrow slavery and autocracy in Mexico. You will notice that we are not respectable. Neither are you. No revolutionist can possibly be respectable in these days of the reign of property. All the names you are being called we have been called. And when graft and greed get up and begin to call names honest men, brave men, patriotic men and martyrs can expect nothing else than to be called chicken thieves and outlaws. So be it; but I, for one, wish that there were more chicken thieves and outlaws of the sort that formed the gallant band that took Mexico; of the sort that is heroically enduring the prison holes of Diaz; of the sort that is fighting and dying and sacrificing in Mexico today."

"I subscribe myself a chicken thief and revolutionist."

A BOND ISSUE FOR GOOD ROADS

Advocates Want an Election Authorized.

Ask Commissioners to Have Enacted Bill Empowering County to Vote on Question If It Is Thought Necessary During Next Two Years—No Action Taken—Road Matters Considered—Mules Sold.

At yesterday's meeting of the County Commissioners a committee from the Chamber of Commerce appeared before the County Commissioners and asked that a bill be drawn authorizing the commissioners to call an election for the purpose of voting $100,000 or $150,000 bonds for good roads, in case the commissioner saw fit to do this during the next two years, resolutions to this effect having been adopted by the chamber.

Yesterday afternoon a committee, composed of Dr. J. T. J. Battle, Messrs. R. D. Douglas and C. G. Wright, from the Guilford County Good Roads Club appeared before the board and made the same request as per resolutions passed by the county organization. It was stated that the bonds might not be needed, but it would be advantageous to have the necessary machinery for calling an election in case it was deemed necessary. It was suggested that in drawing the bill, if the commissioners saw fit to do so, to incorporate a provision requiring that before an election to vote on the question is held the roads proposed to be improved be surveyed in order that every voter might know just what roads were to be improved before he voted. It was stated that it was believed that with $150,000, supplemented with what the county would add to this, a sand clay road could be built within two miles of every farmhouse in the county, thus insuring direct benefit to everyone concerned.

The commissioners stated that they would consider the request, but when adjournment was taken last evening nothing had been done regarding the matter. The board meets again today to inspect the asphalt road between here and High Point, but it was stated by one of the commissioners, the bond issue will not be brought up today. As this is the last time the board will meet before the legislature adjourns it is hardly probably that such a bill will be prepared.

The board yesterday received a petition for a road in Oak Ridge township, the same being ordered advertised. Petitions were also received for roads in Gilmer and Monroe townships, these being ordered advertised.

The commissioners yesterday at noon sold six mules belonging to the county, the aggregate price received being $640. The prices ranged from $80 to $127. A quantity of worn out tools was also sold at auction.

SELLS THEM CHEAPER

MAN'S BACK SNAKE'S BED.

Freezing Reptile Sought Warm Spot Down Woodman's Neck—Story Said to Be True Comes From the Wooden Nutmeg State.

This is a true snake story from Battle Valley, Conn. Battle Valley is somewhere near Winstead. The story comes via Winstead, and that, of course, for a time caused its authenticity to be questioned. But Battle Valley insists that it is true, notwithstanding the Winstead hall mark.

Even the Mayor of Battle Valley vouches for the yarn. The Chief of police also says it is true, and the Recorder of Deeds of the same thriving, industrious stone-hedged, hard cider, wood-burning community has attested an affidavit made before a notary named Stone that it is a fact.

Charles Skinner, a young woodsman who never lost any diamonds, or did anything to get into the limelight before, is the hero of the story.

Skinner is a woodsman, and, as woodsmen, according to tradition, must work in the woods, Skinner was working there. When a woodsman at Battle Valley wants a drink of hard cider mixed with red pepper to give it a tang he drinks from a jug.

When, however, he wants a drink of water, he searches out the favorite bubbling spring on the hillside, where he, being a woodsman, is chopping down wood, and reciting, softly, "Woodman, spare that tree!" Then he kneels down and submerges the front of his face in the spring and drinks his fill.

It was at this pleasant, if unprofitable task that Skinner was engaged when he felt something crawling along his back. Then he felt something tickling his neck and trying to crawl down his back.

Not even a woodsman could stand for that, so he put up his hand and knocked it off. He turned in time to see a snake gliding over the snow. At first Skinner thought some-one had given a pair of skates to it for a Christmas present! He followed, the intention being to chop its head off.

It slowed down for a station on the route it was pursuing, and just then it seemed to have slipped its trolley somehow and lost its power. It wagged its tail several times, and Skinner used to woodcraft, saw at once that the snake was trying to keep warm, and that its motor evidently had ceased to work because of the intense cold.

When he spoke to it the snake made no reply, but just straightened out, coughed a couple of times, like an automobile in trouble, and was dormant.

Skinner threw his coat over it to keep it from freezing to death until he was through work, and then brought it back to Battle Valley. He placed it in a glass jar after measuring it. The snake is what is known as a red adder and is two and one-half feet long. It is to be kept in a glass case and next season the summer boarders will make faces at it.—N. Y. American.

HOT DRINKS.

If Taken Above 130 Degrees They Injure the Stomach.

Many people without realizing it are in the habit of drinking tea at much too high a temperature. Sir Henry Thompson points out in his book on "Diet In Relation to Age and Activity."

"Few persons are aware that they habitually swallow hot liquids, tea especially, at a temperature which if applied to the hands or feet would inflict painful scalds. Most tea drinkers take it about 140 to 145 degrees F., which the mouth bears very well if slowly sipped, while the cup itself is too hot to be held by any hand."

"But the habit of swallowing such tea is injurious to the stomach, and it ought not to be taken above 130 degrees or so. Again, water at 120 degrees, which feels a little more than lukewarm in the mouth, causes severe pain if the hand is dipped in it and cannot be endured."

He has, however, some good words to say for the early morning tea.

"This morning tea in any case should be taken at least an hour and a half before the first meal of the day. For many years I have been accustomed to write for an hour every morning in bed after tea, as I am doing at this moment, and at no time do I find the brain clearer for work, while the appetite for solid food is excellent when the hour for breakfast arrives."

An Open Letter.

Kernersville, N. C., Jan. 4, 1911, Vick's Family Remedies Co., Greensboro, N. C., Gentlemen:—I have used your Croup and Pneumonia Salve for spasmodic asthma and find it superior to anything I have ever tried. I cheerfully recommend it to any one suffering with this disease. Yours truly, Geo. W. Wilson.

"Which Carlyle?"

There is nothing to mark the Arch House, where Carlyle was born, in the Scottish village of Ecclefechan, from the other lowly dwellings that line the village street, and a native guide will be needed if the pilgrim desires to find his way to Carlyle's grave; hence the story of the great writer's brother, James, who was met one day in the village by a band of Americans. Ignorant of his identity, they asked him the whereabouts of Carlyle's grave. "Which Carlyle?" "Oh, the great Carlyle, Thomas Carlyle." With unmoved face he gave the information asked and was rewarded with a fine outburst of hero worship. "We have come all the way from America," said the spokesman of the pilgrims, "to lay this wreath on our great teacher's grave." "Ha!" rejoined James, still unmoved. "It's a gay harmless occupation!" All of which, and especially that "Which Carlyle?" goes to show how vain is the search of the man who visits Ecclefechan on the lookout for worshippers of Carlyle.—Argonaut.

The Czar's Snuffbox.

Czar Paul's snuffbox was as sacred as the imperial crown itself. No one was allowed to touch it. Kaploff wagered that he would take a pinch out of it. One morning he walked up to the table which stood near the bed on which the czar still reclined and boldly took from it the majestic snuffbox. Opening it noisily, he inserted his fingers, and, while Paul I. was watching him in stupefaction at such audacity, he snuffed up the fragrant powder with evident satisfaction.

"What are you doing there, you rogue?" exclaimed the czar excitedly. "Having a pinch of snuff, sire. I have now been on duty for eight hours and, feeling drowsy, I thought it would keep me awake, for I would rather break the rules of etiquette than neglect my duty."

Paul burst out laughing and merely replied:

"That's right enough, my lad, but as the snuffbox is not large enough for both of us you can keep it for yourself."

Juvenile Wisdom.

From some examination papers in a Massachusetts—we repeat, Massachusetts—town:

"Capillarity is when milk rises up around the edge of the bottle and shows good measure."

"The settlers gave a Thanksgiving dinner to the Indians for their kindness and to the Lord for fair weather. They kept up their festivities for three days, eating all the time. A party of sixty Indian warriors came, rolling their warwhoops down the hill."

"Henry VIII. by his own efforts increased the population of England 40,000."

"Esau wrote fables and sold them for potash."

"The Lupercal was the wolf who suckled Romeo and Juliet at Rome."

"Lincoln has a high forehead, which is a sign of many brains."—Everybody's.

Greensboro is the first city in North Carolina to adopt the commission form of government. This town stays at the head of the procession.

Now altogether for the new railroad! If we will put forth one half the interest and energy exerted for the charter, we shall have the new line in a very short time.

In the light of the unparalleled interest taken in the campaign for and against the commission form of government, he who says this is not a live town surely must have a case for the doctor.

Judge Ewart, who has framed the most sweeping prohibition bill ever known in this State, says it is a "corker." And it certainly is, for it will, if passed, cork up the business so tight that it will be dangerous for a man even to have a corkscrew on his premises. But this journal fortunately has no reason to object to its passage.

It is going to be a big job to get three men suitable to serve as commissioners of the city. One step in the direction of securing the best men is for the voters to refrain from pledging themselves. It is an awkward thing to ask to be released from a pledge of this sort even if a release is obtainable. It is much better not to pledge one's vote, but, instead, to wait and see who are going to be the candidates. The very man you want to vote for may be the last one to come out!

The Battle bill providing against the employment in factories of children under fourteen years of age will come up for a hearing today. It is said that the factory men will be on hand to oppose the measure. Certainly; that was doubtless expected by the worthy gentleman who bespoke the welfare of the growing child when he drafted the bill. It would be a convincing spectacle if about ten thousand girls and boys could be marched to the capitol about the time the discussion opens, and better still if their young lives could find wisdom to voice the facts of dwarfed minds and bodies stunted of growth beyond hope of reparation for the coming strife of manhood.

A NOTABLE ADDRESS.

That was a notable address at the court house last night by Dr. McCormack, the representative of the American Medical Society. Thinking people are deeply interested in whatever is calculated to increase their happiness and usefulness and Dr. McCormack gives a line of talk that has precisely that result if his advice is taken. His address represented the best and most advanced thought of the medical profession. We are printing liberal excerpts from the address and we advise our readers to clip them, study them and apply them. There simply is no good in getting expert advice unless one is going to profit from it.

If President Taft succeeds in getting the present Congress to pass his reciprocity measure he will thereby get some credit to the administration for at least a measure of relief from the present high cost of living. If the bill fails of passage he will likely be forced by an overwhelming popular demand to call an extra session at which time the tariff will be revised in its entirety, and to the credit of the Democratic party. The Democratic members of the present Congress will, therefore, be in no haste to vote for the reciprocity measure and the standpat Republicans will not favor it on general principles. That is the situation at present, and no one knows just what the outcome will be.

The Morgan interests have been endeavoring to form a magazine trust. Should they succeed, this free country of ours would lose one of its most effective weapons against the operations of the trusts and the moneyed interests of Wall street, and that, of course, is why Wall street seeks to corner the magazines. But it will not succeed; the price of periodicals is too low, and there are too many thousands of advertisers in the country that would be glad of an opportunity to give their business to the independent magazines; and think what an interesting time the newspapers would give the trust organs! It is hardly necessary, but McClure and the rest have arranged to fight the plans of the would-be monopolists to a finish, should they begin active operations.

Sometime ago a wealthy negro purchased a residence in one of the fashionable white districts of Baltimore, whereupon the former residents of the vicinity and some real estate dealers combined and urged the passage of a segregation ordinance; on the ground that property owners in that section would be ruined if negroes were allowed to own residences there. The ordinance was passed, and on Saturday Judges Harlan and Duffy declared the law to be unconstitutional. This does not mean, however, that the matter is at an end. It is thought that by overcoming certain defects the ordinance may be made effective. It is well settled that the two races cannot dwell together as a social entity; the principle is repugnant to precedent, tradition, training, and human nature, and if the rule should be established that negroes could purchase property and live in sections hitherto inhabited wholly by whites it would mean either that the white residents would give up their homes and go into other sections, at a great property loss or that the negroes would not fare well, to say the least. If the two races are to live peaceably as citizens of the same city it is certainly best that they should be allowed to have their separate residence neighborhoods.

HERE'S A STORY OF BURIED TREASURE

Last week there died suddenly in this city a colored woman who was known to many of the white people as she did gardening for a number of families. She was of a saving disposition and it was known that she had laid up a considerable sum of money. Once she was asked where she deposited her money. "Nowhere," she replied. "I buries it in my yard." "If it's greenbacks, it will rot," some one warned her. She replied that it wasn't greenbacks but quarters and half dollars just as the white folks paid it to her. As she died suddenly without opportunity to make her will, it is plain that there is some buried treasure around Greensboro.

BILL TO GIVE MORE COURTS.
of from $1,600 salary where the fees for the previous year aggregated not over $1,800 up to $4,000 salary where the fees aggregated as much as $4,200.

Connor Bill Special Order.
The Connor bill to protect employees of railroad companies was made a special order for Tuesday, February 14. This is the bill that contains the anti-release clause that the A. C. L. Relief Association is fighting so strongly. It also allows standing in court for damage suits where there was contributory negligence.

The Divorce Laws.
As the third reading mill was rapidly grinding out bills, one every few minutes with very little discussion there was one that sprung the word "divorce" and then there was talk in abundance. The title was "Amend the Revisal as to divorce." There were calls for it to be read in full and it developed that it proposed to strike out the word "ten" in section 50 of chapter 1561 of the Revisal so that parties separated for five years, where there are no children shall be entitled to divorce.

Representative Williams, of Buncombe, opened the opposition. Mr. Connor urged the passage of the bill which, he said, had received a unanimous favorable report from the judiciary committee No. 2. There was a public demand for it and it was the duty of the legislature to recognize this rather than stand on any personal views they might have individually.

Representative Battle, of Wake, spoke at length against the bill declaring that to say that a husband and wife having no children could get divorce practically at will was disconcerting to a degree. Dr. Carr, of Duplin, also opposed the bill. The second reading resulted in a vote of 47 for and 27 against the bill. There were objections to the third reading with inability to secure suspension of rules and the bill took its place on the calendar for another day.

STATUE BILL PASSES HOUSE

Congressman Morehead Notifies Widow of Late President of Battle Ground Company—Bill Carries Appropriation of $25,000.

Mrs. Joseph M. Morehead received the following telegram yesterday from Congressman John M. Morehead: "Washington, Feb. 7.—Greene's statue bill has just unanimously passed the House. My only regret is that its main factor and inspiration is not here to rejoice in the fruit of his labor."

Had Maj. Morehead lived this news would have been the source of the greatest satisfaction to him. The bill, which provides for an appropriation of $25,000, has always had easy sailing in the Senate, the great objection to it being in the House. Maj. Morehead was always confident that this objection would sooner or later be overcome and he worked assiduously to that end.

Sharpe Given Hearing.

He was placed under a bond of $500 for his appearance at the February term of Superior court, the bond being furnished.

A SYSTEMATIC ROGUE CAUGHT

Last night Chief of Police Neelley arrested Dock Roan, a colored boy who has been acting as assistant janitor for the Security Life & Annuity Company, on the charge of larceny. He will be given a hearing this morning.

It seems that for the past month small sums of money have been missed at intervals from the cash drawer of the company and yesterday the police were notified. A bait was laid and the suspected janitor grabbed eagerly. The date on each piece of money left in the drawer was carefully noted and soon after the office had been closed for the day it was discovered that some of the money was missing. The suspect was arrested and the money found in his possession. He admitted taking it last night, but said it was his first theft. In his possession were 2 halves, 4 quarters, 5 dimes and 5 nickels, all marked. It seems that he would take a piece from each till in order that it might not be missed as readily as if it was all taken from one till. About $26 had been stolen.

As Good as Lost.

"You're sure you can spare this five, are you, Shadbolt?" "Dinguss, if I had not been perfectly sure that I can get along without it I never would have lent it to you." —Chicago Tribune.

Skeptical.

Teacher—Now, Johnny, what is the shape of the earth? Small Johnny—I dunno. Teacher—Why, I told you yesterday it was round. Small Johnny—Yes, I know, but I don't believe everything I hear.—Chicago News.

DOWIE'S DREAM COME TRUE

To most of the American people today John Alexander Dowie is but a memory. The world at large was forced for a time at least to acknowledge his transcendent commercial genius. The establishment of Zion City, the immigration to it of followers from all over the civilized world, the founding of the lace industries and other enterprises of magnitude, in that colony, the blending of civil and religious authority in a way which recalled the patriarchal days of old—all stamped Elijah the Second, as Dowie called himself, as a man born once in a century.

Dowie possessed the rare power of converting his visions into realities. In that industrial Utopia which he established, there stands a great monument to his memory. For in establishing the Zion Lace Industries Dowie gave to this country a new industry.

As late as 1900 this beautiful product was considered a monopoly of the historic lace centers of Europe. Today the plant is one of the largest and most interesting textile industries in America.

A wonderful development has taken place in this factory during the past three years. It has been thoroughly reorganized. Out of chaos has been made the most efficient plant of its kind.

The plant covers nearly five acres. It is 586 feet long and 284 feet wide, two and three stories high; now employs about 700 people, and during the past three years has operated all machines 18 hours daily, except Saturday, when the factory is closed at 1 p. m. for a weekly half holiday.

The rapid growth of the Zion Lace Industries has not equaled the remarkable increase of the demand. The product is constantly oversold.

The Zion Lace Industries is today the life of the city of 5,000 inhabitants. Many of its most intelligent wage-earners are toiling with the satisfaction of knowing they still have a chance to get back in that way, at least a comfortable existence in return for the fortunes they have lost. So even if the founder's work may be said to have been unfinished, even though he was crushed out of the minds of the people, a great reality has resulted from his dreams.

FOR WOMEN OF THE CONFEDERACY

Favorable Report For Appropriation to Erect a Monument in Honor of Heroic Women of "Dixieland"—Kent Near Beer Bill in Senate.

Raleigh, Feb. 7.—Governor Kitchin offers a reward of $250 for Woodfin Green, of Mitchell county, who was sentenced to the state's prison for fifteen years for second degree murder June 19, 1910, and who escaped from the state farm Dec. 3, 1910.

The Kent bill prohibiting the sale of near beer, beerine and other like drinks in North Carolina came over from the house today and was sent to the committee on propositions and grievances. A date for a hearing will be fixed later. It is understood that the bill will be loaded down with amendments before it passes the senate.

The house committee on pensions has agreed upon a favorable report for the bill to appropriate $10,000 toward a monument to the women of the Confederacy. Also favorably on bills to authorize Rocky Mount and Nash county to appropriate $1,000 each for Confederate monuments.

The senate judiciary committee gave a lengthy hearing last evening to the opponents of the Lemmond bill designed to prevent monopolies in electric power, gas and electric light corporations. Jas. H. Pou and President Chas. E. Johnson and General Manager H. H. Carr appeared for the Carolina Light and Power Co., Raleigh; A. B. Skelding and T. W. Davis for the Consolidated Light and Power Co., Wilmington, and Mr. Bridgers, of the Henderson Company, were the principal speakers, all opposing the bill on the ground that it would not attain the object intended and might work hardships in many cases. They urged with unanimity that the time is close at hand when the corporation commission should be given power to control the rates. It was stated that another bill is understood to be in preparation to be introduced that might come nearer meeting the conditions and Senator Lemmond agreed to hold up his bill to see what it would contain, reserving the right he said to urge his bill anyway if the new one did not suit him.

It is understood that the new bill is a general anti-trust bill being prepared by Representative Connor to be introduced in both houses.

A Singer of Note.

Anita Pattie Brown, of Chicago, a coloratura soprano singer of great note and reputation, will be at the A. and M. College this evening for a recital. She has travelled extensively and her singing always receives the hearty approval of all her audiences and critics as well. She will be assisted by local talent.

Artistic Picture Framing

Picture Framing does not consist solely in joining together four pieces of molding around the picture. The molding must be properly selected to harmonize with the picture. Then it must be decided whether the picture is to be framed close or with a mat. Finally, the workmanship must be perfect—perfect fitting corners, perfect glass and the picture inserted in frame straight. We place all these facilities at your disposal in our shop, and on this basis solicit your framing business. The shop adjoins our store and is entered from the store.

HARMON AND TRUST CASES.

Ohio Governor Tells of Prosecutions While Attorney-General.

From an interview with Governor Harmon in the N. Y. World.

"When I became Attorney-General I went over the docket to pick out cases to try, and I found the case of the United States vs. the Trans-Mississippi Freight Association. Attorney-General Miller had brought it, under President Harrison, to prevent the raising of rates by the association. The Government had lost the case in the lower courts and it had been dropped.

"I am an old-fashioned fellow who believes competition cures commercial evils. Competition is one of the natural balancing forces. I had made a study of combination laws, and, as I like court work, I made up my mind to take that case into the Supreme Court and argue it alone. I wrote the brief myself, basing my action on the Sherman law, of course. The Government never had won a case under the Sherman law, but the Supreme Court decided this one for us. It aroused great excitement, and the two editions of my brief, which I had to have reprinted, soon disappeared.

"Senator Cushman Davis said to me: 'You are dead right, but you never will win that case alone against all the railroad lawyers in the United States.' There was a rather large force of them aligned against me. I still feel proud of that victory.

"After that I brought two other cases—the Addstone Pipe case, decided for the Government in a famous decision by Judge Taft, and an auction against second railroad combination which tried to avoid the legal errors of the Trans-Mississippi Freight Association combination. The late Judge Moody, as Attorney-General, was the only man who gave me public credit for this work.

"How did President Cleveland look on these cases? He told me he was in thorough sympathy with them, said go ahead, and he resisted a tremendous pressure brought to stop the prosecution.

"Paul Morton? The poor chap is dead now, and I don't care to comment much on his side of the Sante Fe rebate cases. It was President Roosevelt, anyhow, with whom Frederick N. Judson and I had our quarrel. When he asked me to look into those rebates I remembered that he had used two friendly Democrats to whitewash a canal scandal in New York State while Governor. Still, Judson and I thought it our duty to go ahead. The first look showed millions paid in rebates by the Sante Fe, with Morton in authority, to the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, and we reported this to Roosevelt. It was then I used the expression 'guilt is personal.' Roosevelt stood by Morton, that was all. He tried to attack me on this case when he was campaigning against me in Ohio last fall, but I think my reply did not leave him much of an argument."

Tortured For 15 Years.

by a cure-defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. Its surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c at Farris-Klutznick Drug Co.

After taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Pills my backache is gone and where I used to lie awake with rheumatic pains I now sleep in comfort. Foley's Kidney Pills did wonderful things for me." SPEEDY RELIEF FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE.

"I had an acute attack of Bright's disease with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder and dizziness," says Mrs. Cora Thorp, Jackson, Mich. "A bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy overcame the attack, reduced the inflammation, took away the pain and made the bladder action normal. I wish everyone could know of this wonderful remedy." THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was. Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery. Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of Dandruff, Falling Hair, and consequent Baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair. Newbro's Herpicide destroys this germ and consequently restores the hair to its natural state. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. DR. JOWETT REFUSES TO HAVE SALARY RAISED.

Only on This Condition Will He Come to Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church. New York World.

The congregation of the Fifth avenue Presbyterian Church, Fifth avenue and Fifty-fifth street, received yesterday the formal acceptance of their call to the Rev. Dr. J. H. Jowett, who has been for sixteen years the pastor of the Carr's Lane church, Birmingham, England. The letter of acceptance was read at the morning service and was received with much satisfaction.

In this letter was also the ratification of the unusual stand that Dr. Jowett took when he accepted by cable two weeks ago that he would decline the call for a third time unless the congregation would agree not to increase his salary. In his cable he said that he was coming to New York because of the opportunity for increased usefulness and not for more money.

There was one sentence, stuck in the middle of the paragraph toward the end of the long letter, the meaning of which was not grasped until the Rev. Dr. Wilton Merle-Smith, a visiting clergyman who was occupying the pulpit and who read the letter, had concluded. Then somebody asked that this part of the paragraph be read again. It was as follows:

"May I be allowed to add that I shall not need the large stipend you so graciously offered me? When I meet the officers of the church I shall seek their judgment as to what is the equivalent to the stipend I am receiving in my present charge. This will make me perfectly happy in my work."

Dr. Jowett is the third minister the Birmingham church has had in one hundred years. The Fifth Avenue church offered Dr. Jowett $12,000 a year. It was learned yesterday that his salary as pastor of the English church is 1,000 pounds a year, about $4,840 in United States currency.

When the committee of the Fifth Avenue church sent him the first call about a year ago nothing was said about money. Dr. Jowett declined this call, and five months later another call was sent the British clergyman. This time a committee went to England to talk with him, but in all the negotiations not a word was said about money. Dr. Jowett declined the second call also.

About six weeks ago the call was renewed and $12,000 a year and a house were offered him. Two weeks ago he cabled his acceptance, and the congregation of the New York church thought it was lucky to get him at that price.

Falls Victim to Thieves.

S. W. Bends, of Coal City, Ala., has a justifiable grievance. Two thieves stole his health for twelve years. They were a liver and kidney trouble. Then Dr. King's New Life Pills throttled them. He's well now. Unrivaled for Constipation, Malaria, Headache, Dyspepsia. 25c. Fariss-Klut Drug Co.

It's the bread-winner who really takes the cake.

This is what Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ledbetter said on January 22:
"Gentlemen: Last night our daughter, age five years, was taken suddenly with pneumonia. We used 1-2 box of Mother's Joy as directed, and today she is almost well, thanks to the good remedy so near at hand and so cheap. This was a violent case, and hope you saw. 520 Laura avenue."

Meet For First Time in Forty-Six Years at Marriage of Grandson of One. New York World.

There was a remarkable scene last evening at the wedding of Max P. Bau, of No. 230 Grand street to Miss Beatrice Finkowitz at Jenson Hall, No. 90 Columbia street. Mrs. Bernard Bau, of No. 169 Watkins street, Brooklyn, grand-mother of the bridegroom, was standing in the hallway before the ceremony, early scanning the face of every arrival, when a woman made her appearance.

The next instant the two women were clasped in each other's embrace, kissing weeping and laughing together.

The two women are sisters and had not seen each other for forty-six years. Mrs. Bau had come to this country that long ago, while the other sister, Mrs. Green, arrived here from Germany on Saturday, coming expressly to see her sister and to attend the wedding.

Mrs. Bau was unavoidably absent from the city when Mrs. Green landed, and so the sisters met at the wedding, and it was really a double celebration, a wedding as well as a reunion.

As the bride and bridegroom marched through the hall after the ceremony, followed by the two happy sisters, who had refused to leave each other even for a moment, all present cheered.

Courting a Belle.

"Would it be any harm to deceive her about my age?" inquired the elderly millionaire.

"Probably not."

"I'm 60. How would it do to confess to 50?"

"I think your chances would be better with her if you claimed 75."—Kansas City Journal.

Poor Brown.

"Sorry Brown," said the doctor after the examination. "I'm afraid I'll have to operate on you."

"Operate!" gasped Brown. "Why, I haven't any money for operations. I'm only a poor working man."

"You're insured, are you not?"

"Yes, but I don't get that until after I'm dead."

"Oh, that'll be all right," said the doctor, consolingly.—New Orleans Picayune.
